Doe was born with a rare genetic condition that left her legally blind. Despite her disability, she has always lived a full and active life. She has a successful career as a writer and speaker, and she is a passionate advocate for people with disabilities.

In My Heart Is Not Blind, Doe shares her story with candor and vulnerability. She writes about the challenges she has faced as a blind person, but she also celebrates the many joys and triumphs she has experienced.

The book is divided into three parts. The first part tells the story of Doe's childhood and adolescence. She describes the challenges she faced as a blind child, and she recounts the ways in which her family and friends supported her.

The second part of the book focuses on Doe's young adulthood. She writes about her experiences in college and graduate school, and she shares her stories of love and heartbreak.

The third part of the book tells the story of Doe's journey of redemption. She describes how she came to terms with her disability, and she explains how she found love and happiness.

My Heart Is Not Blind is a powerful and inspiring memoir. It is a story of hope, resilience, and love. It is a book that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.
