The 11th step is a crucial part of the 12-step recovery program. It is a time for recovering addicts to reach out to others and help them on their own journey to recovery. The Wolfe Street Center in Little Rock is a place where recovering addicts can come together and share their experiences, strength, and hope.

This book is a collection of stories from the Sunday 11th step meetings at the Wolfe Street Center. These stories are inspiring, heartbreaking, and funny. They are a testament to the power of recovery and the importance of helping others.

If you are recovering from addiction, this book is for you. It will give you hope, strength, and wisdom on your journey to recovery.

Here are some of the stories you will find in this book:

- The story of a man who was addicted to alcohol for over 30 years. He lost his job, his family, and his home. But he found recovery through the 11th step.
- The story of a woman who was addicted to drugs for over 10 years. She was in and out of rehab multiple times. But she finally found recovery through the 11th step.
- The story of a couple who was addicted to opioids. They lost everything, including their children. But they found recovery through the 11th step and are now helping others to find recovery.

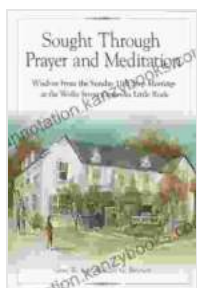

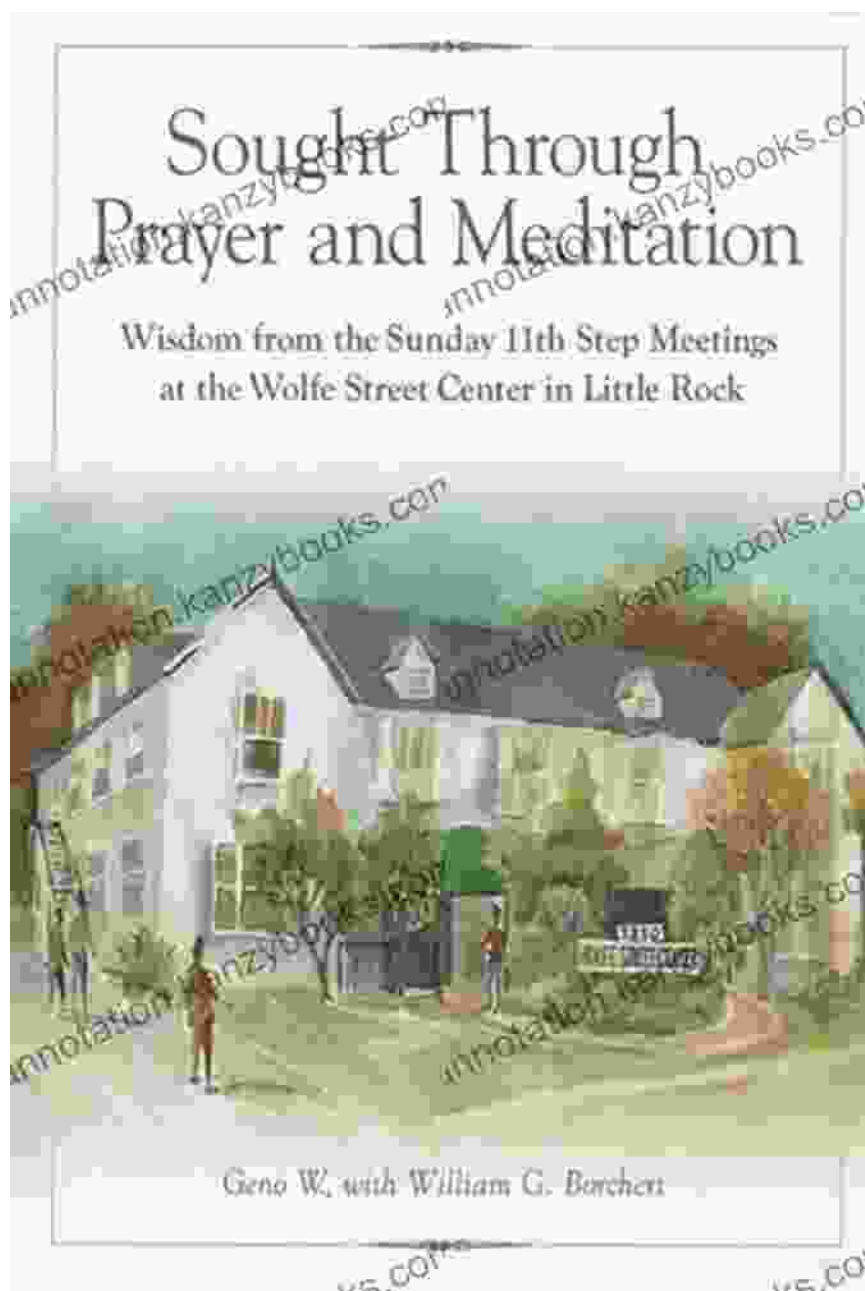

These are just a few of the stories you will find in this book. Each story is unique, but they all share a common theme: the power of recovery.

If you are struggling with addiction, know that there is hope. Recovery is possible. The Wolfe Street Center is a place where you can find support and guidance on your journey to recovery.
